5-9PM FRIDAY, OCT 21, 2016

FEATURED SPEAKER: DANIELA SOLERI

Daniela Soleri, PhD, is an Associate Research Scientist in the UCSB Geography Department. Her interest in the ability of individuals and small groups to shape local crop diversity has led to her present research project, a survey of Seed Libraries and community seed efforts in California.

This project will be the topic of her presentation at the Seed Exchange. Daniela hopes to support “citizen science” - public scientists partnering with and supporting grass-roots seed saving and diversity management. Daniela has co-managed the Native Seed/ Search Research & Demonstration Garden for several years.

ABOUT THE SEED EXCHANGE

The San Luis Obispo Seed Exchange exists to encourage the practice of cultivating and saving seeds. At this event, come and share your seeds and agriculture knowledge while learning new skills and engaging in your community. Seeds will be available to be exchanged at the event and librarians from Los Osos, Nipomo and Arroyo Grande will be able to give information about local seed libraries.
