Returning Materials

Materials can be returned to any County of SLO Public Libraries branch. All County of SLO Public Libraries have book drops for use when branches are closed.

In the interest of service, equity, and access, we ask that you return your items on time. The Materials Recovery policy states how overdue accounts are handled. If you repeatedly do not return materials within the allotted time, we may temporarily suspend your account for up to 12 months or limit the number of items you can have checked out to 5 items. When your account is suspended you cannot check out physical materials like books or DVDs or access some of our services.

Fines and Fees

The County of SLO Board of Supervisors approves fines and fees for County of SLO Public Libraries.

- Fees are charged for lost and damaged items and for special processing services.
- Fines and fees rates may vary by types of materials
- Borrowing privileges may be suspended when fines/fees are owed.
- Patrons with an outstanding balance of $50 or more are referred to an outside collections agency.
